

Do you know COLD like they do?

Vital-Ice™ produces the greatest temperature reduction & the fastest response compared to ethyl chloride and ice.

PacEndo™

VITALICE™
Pulp Vitality Refrigerant Spray

Vitality testing with PacEndo™ Vital-Ice™ is a critical part of the endodontic diagnosis, in addition to a complete dental exam with exposed radiographs. Stimulating the nerve endings of the pulp with a cold spray is a sure way to test for vitality. The results of this test will indicate the vitality (existing blood flow) of the tooth before starting the procedure.

- Produces the greatest temperature reduction and the fastest response
- Significantly colder than ethyl chloride and ice
- Directional nozzle for easy placement on micro applicator or cotton pellet
